AIR RAID

Paris, To-day.

While Hungarian troops have begun a new offensive at some points in Slovakia, the Slovaks claim to have advanced into Ruthenia, according to a Havas report from Bratislava.

Fighting took place in rain all day yesterday.

Slovak aeroplanes raided Misal and blew up petrol and munitions depots. — Reuter.

HUNGARY JUSTIFIES

Budapest, To-day.

An attempt to justify the Hungarian invasion of Slovakia is made by the semi-official newspaper, "Esti Ujsag."

The paper says that occupation of the frontier district would mean a natural frontier corresponding to geographical conditions and the common interests of the two countries. — Trans-Ocean.

Berlin, To-day.

A new finance plan, providing for advance payments by trade and industry on future tax payments, was announced in Berlin yesterday.

Object of the plan is to enable the Government to finance extraordinary expenditure.

Taxation bonds will be issued in recognition of advance payments, but no interest will be payable.

It is officially explained that the plan will serve to finance Reich, provinces and towns railways, posts motor-roads and other juridical organisations.

Trade and industry will be obliged to take these taxation bonds. Only in exceptional cases will Reich loans be issued.

HIGHER INCOME TAX

As from May, delivery of bonds, which so far have been used by the Reich and other authorities as a means of payment, will be abolished.

Certain concessions will be granted in connexion with taxation bonds: the drop in revenue resulting from these will be made good mainly by additional income tax and "cuts" in public authorities' expenditure.

BERLIN, TO-DAY.

UNOFFICIAL POLITICAL CIRCLES ARE TALKING OF THE POSSIBILITY OF GERMANY SOON HAVING A COLONY. THEY HAVE IN MIND THE FORMER GERMAN TREATY PORT OF TSINGTAO, IN THE KIAOCHOW PENINSULA, WHICH WAS CAPTURED BY JAPAN DURING THE WAR AND RETURNED TO CHINA IN 1922.

It is now again in the possession of Japan, who, it is suggested, may return it to Germany.

One of the difficulties believed to

The precise time of the important speech Mussolini is expected to deliver to-morrow (Sunday) in connexion with the Fasci celebrations, is not yet known.

However, Il Duce is expected to start his address at about 10.15 a.m. (G.M.T.), or 6.15 p.m. Hong Kong Time.—Reuter.

Kaunas, To-day.

"It is better to be honourably defeated by a stronger enemy than to make an impotent surrender," declared General Rastikis, commander-in-chief of the Lithuanian Army, in an appeal to the troops yesterday.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

Wishing Doesn't Keep Figure Beautiful

Yesterday I urged you to play them on their toes! games for beauty—to find fun in exercise. But I realize that many of you are not game minded during the more crowded winter months; and you resort to home corrective movements to keep in trim. If you do not exercise at home during these months your beauty is growing dim and your health weaker!

Upon checking over the feminine players of Universal Studio I discovered, much to my satisfaction, that practically every girl on the lot realizes that good figure insurance is a matter of faithful devotion to a regular exercise routine. And each, you may be assured, has her own pet schedule! For some of them are as lazy in heart as you, while others embrace exercise as readily as a good meal! The tiny flat hip specifications of 1939 has Danielle Darrieux does bending and breathing exercises every morning on arising. A dozen times from the waistline—touching the floor with her fingertips without bending her knees! Inhaling slowly in front of an open window and exhaling rapidly several times, is the French star's recipe for keeping bustline firm and lovely. The bending keeps her waistline small. Joy Hodges doesn't content herself with only making floor and fingertips meet. She lies down flat on her back, bringing her legs up over her head until her toes touch the floor at a spot over her head. It is hard work she says, but un-embarrassing for fining down and tightening the waist line and hip muscles. So she does it every day. She dances a lot for poise — so should you!

The other quick movements required to play the game send any unwanted pads of fat scampering away! Every girl to her own formula, as there are dozens of exercises for acquiring what every gal should have for properly showing off her 1939 wardrobe — a tiny waist and flat hips! And in keeping those curves trimmed down she is keeping her health up to par—and that you know, with pleasure according to her, and my darlings, is very essential to your just right for keeping the figure New Year's happiness and success!

What The Stars Foretell

(By MARY BLAKE)

You only believe what you think, so keep your thoughts cleared of wrong conceptions, apprehensions and sentiments this day if you wish it to be a happy one. Facial expressions will convey impressions of intimidation, defiance, love, hate, and the rest of human emotions, so it will be good judgment to keep yours under control. The rugged individualism of someone you may contact this day, should prove of great help in aiding you to make up your mind regarding some policy to pursue in solving a personal problem. It will pay to do all you have to do with good grace, for fussing will do little good this day. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who have found the "one and only" person they would like to marry, must avoid any form of obstinacy this day, if they wish to be happy. If a woman and March 25 is your birthday, you are probably an advanced thinker and very broad-minded, especially when it comes to being tolerant regarding other people's views. You probably love anything of a speculative nature, and may be inclined to take more long chances in business than is wise. Ambition makes you very enterprising and should prevent your ever getting into a rut. You are apt to be very artistic, so you might do exceptionally well as an artist, interior decorator, designer, sculptor, architect or gift or beauty shop manager. You perhaps will marry a Prince Charming and live long and happily forever after. The child born on March 25, is generally endowed with a quick mind and a body that co-ordinates with it perfectly. In the field of sports this youngster's skill and prowess might win gratifying recognition. Children born on this date usually win their way through to success with very little difficulty.

JAP. ATROCITIES CAUSED BY BRUTAL OFFICERS, SAYS AGNES SMEDLEY

Brutal treatment of Japanese soldiers by their officers is the explanation of the wholesale slaughter, looting and raping by the Nipponese army in China, given by Agnes Smedley, well known writer on Communism in the Far East, who is now travelling with the New Fourth Route Army.

This fact is revealed in an article which Miss Smedley contributes to the China Weekly Review.

"We have proof enough now that the High Command of the Japanese Army deliberately brutalizes the soldiers. If they did not do so this war could not continue, for most of the common soldiers in the Japanese army are men worried about the poverty of their families at home", she says.

OFFICERS LEAD TERROR

"Many of the officers lead and command their troops in burning, looting, raping and slaughtering," the article continues. "If you study the captured Japanese letters and diaries, particularly the diaries you can see the steady brutalization of the Japanese Army," Miss Smedley declares.

"In the entire Nanking-Chinkiang region, where I am at the present time, the one occupation of the Japanese soldiers, when they are not killing, is hunting for women," she says.

"To state that only Chinese prostitutes are being used by the Japanese troops is untrue," the widely read writer continues. "There are not enough prostitutes in all China to fill the Japanese brothels in the Hongkew district of Shanghai alone. Most of the girls and women in the 'Comfort Houses of the Imperial Army' are captives.

"WILL HAPPEN ELSEWHERE"

"Let no civilized man to-day wash his hands by saying that the women used by the Japanese are prostitutes. It is not true. What is happening to the women of China to-day will happen to the women of other countries if the Japanese are victorious," states the article.

"The Japanese are in about the same stage of intellectual and spiritual development as were Genghis Khan's hordes a few centuries ago, though they have added a few frills, externally. In fact, the Japanese campaign in China is fashioned much after that of the barbarous Mongols of that time," Agnes Smedley concludes.

JEWISH SETTLEMENT POSSIBLE IN RHODESIA

LONDON, TO-DAY.

THE COLONIAL OFFICE ANNOUNCES THAT THE EMIGRATION JOINT COMMITTEE OF THE CO-ORDINATING COMMITTEE FOR REFUGEES HAS ARRANGED FOR A COMMISSION OF EXPERTS TO PROCEED BY AIR TO NORTH RHODESIA TO EXAMINE THE POSSIBILITIES OF REFUGEE SETTLEMENT THERE.

The commission will consist of Sir James Dunnett (formerly of the Indian Civil Service), Colonel W. H. Nicholls (who is connected with the refugee settlement operation in Kenya), Mr. M. Murock (former Assistant Secretary of the Government of Palestine, and now Chief Secretary, Uganda), Mr. H. Croad (former Provincial Commissioner in North Rhodesia) and Mr. A. Khasanof (who was seconded by the Palestine-Jewish Colonisation Association).

The commission will be associated with a local committee appointed by the Governor.

The commission will probably also visit Nyasaland to investigate the possibility of settlement of a small number of agriculturists there. — Reuter.

AIR "RECORD" IN SWIMSUIT

Captain H. H. Balfour, Under-Secretary of State for Air and war-time pilot, claimed the record of being the first man to fly unclothed over Norfolk in an address at Broadstairs.

"For twenty years I have piloted aeroplanes of different kinds in different parts of the world, but I have never feared engine trouble as much as I did one day in 1918 in this country," he said. "At the aerodrome where I was stationed it was the practice of officers to fly over to the sea for a bathe."

"It was a quiet stretch of coast, and in the ordinary way we did not have to worry much."

"I must admit that I suffered a little anxiety however, when I emerged from the sea one day to find my clothing gone. There was nothing for it but to get back in to the plane."

"But how I prayed that there would be no engine trouble!"

VIENNA CARNIVAL

Sneers At Clericals

On Rose Monday all Vienna was dancing. The Carnival of 1939, the first Vienna has known in the German style, concludes with the Opera Ball.

The sneers and gibes at the clericals and at the familiar figures of recent modern history in Vienna, which were embodied in the Carnival procession have been taken in good part by the Viennese as a whole. Some bitterness was caused by caricatures of ex-President Miklas and Dr. Dollfuss, and of a priest at the confessional.

It was rumoured that inscriptions had been found on walls of houses such as: "We kept the Turks out of Vienna and we will get the Germans out." These rumours are not confirmed by the police.

PLAY CHESS WHEN THEY COME TO EARTH

Pilots, radio operators, and hostesses in the giant air liners that dash across Europe at three miles a minute, were my hosts at Croydon Aerodrome, writes a reporter.

Their room, to outward appearance, seemed the peaceful lounge of a sedate private hotel. In a murmur of conversation groups of men played chess and bridge, or sat, absorbed in books, round a coal fire. Here and there a pretty young woman bent over her knitting or sewing — and outside the gale blew.

This was Croydon behind the scenes.

NAZIS AGAIN ATTACK B.B.C.

DR. ADOLF HALFELD ONCE MORE DEVOTES AN EXTENSIVE LEADING ARTICLE IN THE "HAMBURGER FREMDENBLATT" TO AN ATTACK ON THE METHODS OF THE B. B. C.

He declares that the short-wave transmissions in English of the powerful German station at Zees, which have been proceeding since 1934, are intended "exclusively to enlighten persons of German blood and extraction abroad on events in the Reich."

"No propaganda effect on English listeners is intended, and the latter would certainly prefer the new broadcast by the British system."

It was particularly necessary that the Jewish problem should be discussed in these broadcasts, "since the treatment abroad of this point in particular makes it understandable for reasons of objectivity that Germany wishes to make her point of view heard."

HERD HITLER'S SPEECH

If Zeesen did not broadcast—in English — Germans abroad, he argues, would be exposed exclusively to the "constant and certainly not entirely unbiased barrage of the British shortwave stations."

The British broadcasts in German, which Dr. Halfeld describes as "longwave radiations which have been sent out punctually every evening for the last 10 days," are, he claims, in a quite different category.

They represented a new departure in international radio practice, and it was for this reason that the Fuehrer had mentioned them in his Reichstag speech.

Only Moscow, at present, used the same tactics since the French station at Strasbourg could claim that it sent out news in German because many of its subjects used German as their native language.

Both Britain and Germany had

The sight of these calm men and women of many nationalities—Dutch, Czech, Belgian, Swiss, French, and German—killed the legend that airmen are reckless young men inclined to foolish deeds in their hours off duty.

NEW LEGEND

It created a finer legend of the solid type of flying men and women who look on their strange life just as any other job.

"Not many years ago airmen were inclined to be a little 'artistique,'" a Czech pilot said as he waved his hand across the room. "They looked on life as adventurous, and were inclined to make whoopee. Now they are just like men in any other profession carrying out their job."

As he spoke, a dark-haired girl sat in a chair near me and began work on a scarf. From her appearance, she might have come down from her room, but 15 minutes before she was flying to London from Zurich—500 miles away.

She was Fraulein Erna Nikles, star hostess of the Swissair Line.

"IT RAINS SO MUCH"

"I have flown 380,000 miles during the last three years—so I am used to it," she said. "As soon as I am on the ground, I forget all about flying."

"I never go up to London. I prefer to sit and sew. It rains so much that I don't want to go out."

Across her table her pilot, Capt. Walter Borner, and radio operator Werner Wegmann began a game of chess. "Piloting is becoming so complicated with so many wireless directional signals and mechanical devices that it is getting like chess," Capt. Borner told me.

"I find the game a rest after a flight," Pilot Stoeke, of the Belgian (S.A.B.E.N.A.) Air Line, said as he played chess with Steward Van der Straeten while his radio operator, Douraye, looked on.

In front of the fire ruddy-cheeked Commander Fillevus, one of the Dutch K.L.M. Line leading pilots, was reading. Suddenly he glanced at his watch, put a mark in the book, and rose quietly to his feet. Ten minutes later his machine roared overhead through the storm on its way to Amsterdam.

had occasion to complain of the activities of the Luxembourg station.

INTERNATIONAL COURTESY

Britain had been very sensitive to the Arabic broadcasts from Bari and a satisfactory arrangement had been arrived at in this respect within the framework of the Anglo-Italian pact signed last April. Germany had never broadcast in English on the long or middle waves, except on a few occasions when important speeches of Herr Hitler had been transmitted in English translations.

In view of the international courtesy hitherto observed, the English broadcasts in German might be described as illegitimate. It was not correct that they consisted only of objective and irreproachable surveys of world news.

It was clearly the aim of the English broadcasts to interfere in affairs of foreign States.

The "Hamburger Fremdenblatt" was in a position to assure its readers that official German quarters were listening in with the greatest care.

MARSHAL PETAIN HANDS CREDENTIALS TO GEN. FRANCO

Paris, To-day.

The first French Ambassador to National Spain, Marshal Petain, formally submitted his credentials to General Franco at Burgos yesterday, according to French press despatches from the National Spanish capital.

Simultaneously the Paris papers comment on the one and three quarter of an hour conversation which Marshal Petain had with the National Spanish Foreign Minister, General Jordana, and stress the fact that all differences existing between the French and National Spanish points of view concerning the immediate surrender to National Spain of the Spanish war materials and supplies carried into France by the defeated Catalan army had been overcome and that a solution had been found of the various other problems thus paving the way for an unlimited friendly future in the relations between the two countries.

Special stress is also laid by the French press on the exceedingly hearty tone which is said to have characterised the Petain-Jordana conversation and which is regarded as the best indication of improvement of relations between France and the National Spanish Government. — Trans-Ocean.

PLANS FOR MADRID ATTACK COMPLETED

Burgos, To-day.

With all preparations for a final large scale offensive against Madrid and the remaining central Spanish territory still under the control of the Defence Council, the eyes of responsible National Spanish military and political quarters in the National Spanish capital are directed towards Madrid where the Defence Council held a session yesterday which is regarded in Burgos as of greatest significance for the termination of the civil war.

According to reports circulating in all informed quarters the Defence Council is said to have discussed at length the question of making final preparations for an immediate transportation abroad of all leaders to whom General Franco refuses to grant pardon in the case of surrender. — Trans-Ocean.

CONSCRIPTION DECREE IN SPAIN

Barcelona, To-day.

The first conscription decrees for service in the National Spanish army in the former Republican province of Catalonia were issued yesterday.

The new Catalan recruits have been ordered to report to-day for military service under National Spanish colours. — Trans-Ocean.

Long Talk In Russia To Better Trade

MOSCOW, TO-DAY.

M. MIKOYAN, COMMISSAR FOR FOREIGN TRADE, AND ONE OF STALIN'S CLOSEST FRIENDS, GAVE UP HIS HOLIDAY TO RECEIVE MR. R. S. HUDSON, BRITISH SECRETARY FOR OVERSEAS TRADE.

"We were very much impressed with M. Mikoyan's businesslike attitude. Our reception so far has been more than friendly," Mr. Hudson told Reuter.

Yesterday Mr. Hudson started the first concrete discussions on the possibility of improving Anglo-Soviet trade relations.

POLITICAL IMPORTANCE

Because of the Central European events the talks may have assumed considerable political importance.

Mr. Hudson had his first business talk with M. Mikoyan in the afternoon. The discussions, which were very friendly, lasted four hours, but no details have been disclosed.

The talks are being resumed to-day after which Mr. Hudson is luncheon with the Soviet Foreign Commissar, M. Maxim Litvinoff. — Reuter.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO LAND AT PAKHOI

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Kwangchowwan, To-day.

An unsuccessful attempt to land under cover of a smoke-screen was made along the coast at Pakhoi on Thursday, according to reports from Pakhoi received last night.

It is reported that several Japanese trawlers steamed along the coast at about 2.30 p.m. and started to throw out a smoke-screen.

Motor-launches, crowded with blue-jackets and troops were standing-by, alongside several Japanese warships, in preparation to land.

Chinese coastal batteries forced the trawlers to retreat out to sea by steady shelling. One of the trawlers was hit and sank. — Our Own Correspondent.

ATTEMPT TO AMEND CHINA CURRENCY BILL

Mr. Pethick-Lawrence And Interest Clause

"GOOD THING IN REAL INTEREST OF PEACE"

London, To-day.

The China Currency Stabilisation Bill, which passed its third reading in the House of Commons yesterday, was also passed by the House of Lords at its first reading. The Bill is being read for the second time in the Lords on Monday.

Before passing the third reading, the House of Commons rejected an amendment by Mr. Pethick-Lawrence (Labour) rejecting the Government's guarantee of 2¾ per cent. interest to the British banks if the Chinese banks failed to pay.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon, concluding the debate, believed it was made quite plain at the second reading that there was a universal feeling in the House that we were trying to do a good thing in the real interests of peace.

We were showing our desire to support what ought to be supported, apart from the calculation of City interests.

Sir John said he had the greatest possible confidence that we should not be called on to fulfil our engagement regarding interest if the Chinese Government continued to practise what they had most honourably followed in the past of doing their utmost to fulfil their engagements.—Reuter.

WITHDRAWAL OF DEPOSITS IN CANTON BANK

After the fall of Canton, the Canton Municipal Bank was evacuated to Kwangning and business was temporarily suspended.

According to an arrangement between the Canton Municipal Bank and the Kwangtung Provincial Bank, which has received the sanction of the highest financial authorities, the deposits on Current Account of private individuals and business firms can now be withdrawn through the Kwangtung Provincial Bank at its Hong Kong Branch, Chater Road, Hong Kong.

A complete list of such depositors has already been sent to the Kwangtung Provincial Bank, Hong Kong Branch, by the Canton Municipal Bank.

The regulations of the Ministry of Finance will apply to the withdrawals made under this arrangement.

GOVT. SHIPPING SUBSIDY FORESHADOWED

London, To-day.

Mr. David Kirkwood (Labour) yesterday said he was most confident that Mr. Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, would intimate a Government subsidy to aid shipping and the ship-building industry when replying to Mr. Kirkwood's question on the subject in the House of Commons on Tuesday next week.

Mr. Kirkwood, interviewed, stated that Mr. Stanley had advised him to raise the subject.

He was of opinion that Mr. Stanley would not have requested this unless he had an important answer to make.—Reuter.

Washington, To-day.

The movement to impeach Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labour and the only women member of the United States Cabinet, has fallen through.

Three months ago, Representative Thomas (Republican) introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives mandating the impeachment of Miss Perkins owing to her stand in deferring the deportation of Harry Bridges, the Australian Labour leader.

Yesterday the judiciary committee of the House of Representatives unanimously agreed that there were no grounds for impeachment.—Reuter.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

The Way She Looked

Pamela never told Monty she was near-sighted. She knew he would want her to wear glasses, and glasses seldom if ever add to the attractive qualities of any female. And she wanted him to continue thinking she was beautiful at all costs.

Sometimes she felt a little guilty about it. There would come a time, she knew, when he would have to know. A queer sensation of dread came over her when she thought of what he might do upon learning of her deceit. If he should stop loving her she would have little left to live for.

The summer passed and winter came and Pamela began to notice a change in Monty. At first she thought it was her imagination, but when deliberately he broke a date with her one night she knew that her fears were justified.

Panic beset her. He was losing interest. He no longer loved her. He had tired of her. There was another woman.

Panic gave way to rational thinking. She mustn't let this thing get her down. She was still young. Her life was ahead of her. She must face the facts. Above all, she must never let Monty know how she felt. She mustn't humble herself to him. She must pretend indifference.

It was hard. Monty called her less and less. Obviously his interest had cooled. There were other things on his mind. He was worried. Probably he was trying to think of a way of breaking it off without hurting her. She decided to make things easier for him and for herself.

The following week, Pamela packed her things and went away. Only her mother knew her destination.

Monty called three days after she had gone. Pamela's mother said she had gone to visit friends in a distant city. She didn't name the city. He didn't ask.

A week passed. Two weeks. One night a friend of Pamela's named Ogden Drinkwater, dropped into a restaurant after a theatre party. He saw Monty sitting alone at a table. He was thinner, haggard. There was a tormented look in his eyes.

Drinkwater sat down at the table with him. They passed the time of day. Ogden asked questions. At first Monty wouldn't talk. But finally he poured it all out.

"Love her? Of course I love her! But I've other things to think of. I want my friends to like her, too. I introduce her to them and the next time she sees them she doesn't recognize them, or pretends not to. She snubs them on the street."

Ogden blew smoke at the ceiling. "You dope! She's nearsighted. She doesn't see your friends, that's why she snubs them. She didn't want you to know because she knew you'd want her to wear glasses, and women with glasses aren't attractive."

The next day Monty called on Pamela's mother. He begged her to tell him where she was. She shook her head. "Pamela's happy. She has a new job. You'd only make her unhappy again." He pleaded and cajoled and at length she told him Pamela was living in Rollins. She wouldn't tell him her address. Monty knew some people in Rollins. He took the first train and called on them. But they had never heard of Pamela. They gave him a list of people to see who might know or have heard of her. He spent three days calling on them. None of them could help him.

He spent another three days visiting brokerage offices. Back home Pamela had worked for a broker. But none of them employed a secretary answering her description; none of them remembered a girl who looked like her having applied for a job.

Disheartened, unhappy Monty took a subway train back to his hotel. The train was crowded. He stood hanging onto a strap, staring at the blackness beyond the window. A man jostled him. He turned—and his glance fell on Pamela. She was sitting three seats away. Suddenly she looked up and straight into his eyes.

DOCTOR'S CHASE AT TUBE STATION

Girl Killed By A Train

ALLEGED REMARK BY ACCUSED MAN

A remark about "an overpowering impulse to throw someone under a train" was alleged to have been made to a friend by Leonard Ward Davies, 30, of Windsor-road, Holloway, N., who was charged on remand at Marlborough-street with the murder of Avril Ray Waters, of Broadfield-avenue, Edgware.

Mr. E. Clayton, Director of Public Prosecutions, said that the girl would have been 15 next month. She travelled daily on the underground to attend a commercial school as a shorthand student.

At Tottenham Court-road station Davies was seen to push her in front of an oncoming train, part of which went over her.

Davies Stopped

"That was seen by Dr. Fisher. He would say he ran after Davies, who made for one of the exits. He was stopped by a number of people on the platform."

Davies said to Dr. Fisher, "I could not help it. I could not help it." In the station master's office Davies said to P.C. John, "I don't know what made me do it."

Davies did not know the girl, said Mr. Clayton. He had been employed as a barman from March to May last year, and one of his fellow employees at that time would say that the day before the tragedy Davies went to see him.

He was in a very distressed condition and said to this man, "Do you believe in spirits of personalities?" The man told him he had not enough knowledge, and Davies then said, "What would you think of a man who had an overpowering impulse to throw someone under a train?"

The man told him to give up the type of literature he was reading, added Mr. Clayton, but next day he did the thing he had been talking about.

Mr. Eric Noel Waters, the girl's father, a grocery manager, was in a distressed state when he gave evidence of identification and was allowed to sit in the witness-box.

Davies was remanded in custody for seven days and was granted a certificate for legal aid.

JAPANESE BID TO CAPTURE NANCHANG

Shanghai, To-day.

Following steady pressure, accompanied by the constant shelling of Japanese warships and severe aerial raids by Japanese aircraft, Wucheng, on the west bank of the Poyang Lake, was evacuated by the Chinese troops yesterday and is now fully occupied by the Japanese.

Clashes between the Chinese and Japanese on the outskirts of the town are, however, continuing this morning.

Wucheng, according to Japanese messages, has been reduced to ruins by incessant bombing and shelling and parts of the city are still burning.

The Japanese troops are reported steadily advancing along the Kiuking-Nanchang Highway towards Nanchang, and their vanguard was this morning reported to be within 15 miles of the capital of Kiangsi.

The Chinese are repeatedly counter-attacking and inflicting heavy losses on the Japanese troops. Fierce battles are raging north-west of Nanchang, which, according to reports this morning was being heavily bombed by Japanese planes. — Our Own Correspondent.

MAIN FORCE ENGAGED AT TANKI

Shushui, Kiangsi, To-day.

The Japanese who succeeded in crossing the Siu River are trying to reach Nanchang by highway. Their main force is being engaged at Tanki. Their vanguards who passed through Tanki under the escort of several tanks have been driven back.

The Chinese left wing at Wuning is reported to have the situation well in hand. The Japanese driving from Joki to Wuning has been engaged at Tungkow, east of Wuning, for the past four days. Fighting assumed great bitterness yesterday but the Japanese were unable to make headway. Considerable casualties were suffered by both sides. — Central News.

ROAD HOGS' HALL OF SHAME

Walls hung with photographs of motorists and the corpses of their victims is the world's most gruesome public gallery planned for Kansas City, Missouri.

Named "The Hall of Shame," it will be open daily in the hope of terrifying motorists and pedestrians into being more careful.

Drivers involved in accidents will be compelled by police to stand by those they have knocked down while a super-candid cameraman makes studies.

It may sound ghastly, Mayor McElroy told a New York correspondent, "but surely it is time we did something to stop the road massacre. I hope other cities all over the world will follow our example."

£27,000,000 MAN DIES IN SURGERY

A man whose management increased a fortune by £27,000,000 in five years has died in a doctor's surgery at Nottingham.

He was Lieutenant-Colonel Sir William Thomas Cox, D.S.O., of Oakwood-mansions, Kensington, London, W.

Travelling to Nottingham he was taken ill on the train. When the train reached Nottingham Sir William was taken to the surgery of a local doctor, where he died in half an hour.

Accommodation had been reserved for Sir William and Lady Cox at a local hotel. It is believed that they intended to visit Rufford Abbey, formerly the home of Lord Savile, in the Dukeries, which is now in the market.

Sir William Cox, whose wife was a cousin of Sir John Ellerman, managed Sir John's estate.

When the late Sir John Ellerman died in 1933 he left £40,000,000. Of this £22,000,000 went in death duties.

Under Sir William's management the Ellerman estate is now said to have grown to £45,000,000.

Sir William was fifty-seven. He was created a knight in 1937.

During the war he was in the Royal Artillery. He was wounded twice, awarded the D.S.O. and was mentioned in dispatches.

His wounds forced him to leave the Army, and then his wife's uncle gave him a start in business by making him a manager of the Ellerman real estate interests.

The Ellerman Property Trust, which he directed from an office in Moorgate, has ramifications in real estate, shipping, breweries, newspapers and other interests.

Lady Cox, who is daughter of John Francis Butlin, of Birmingham was a mathematics "wrangler" at Cambridge.

There are no children.

NAVY'S HOBBY IS EMBROIDERY

For a living Thomas Bradley, navy, wields a shovel in his mighty, horny hands.

For pleasure he plies a tiny needle and does embroidery work of exquisite beauty.

His rough fingers are as sensitive as those of any woman, and more sensitive than most.

After a hard day's labour, Tom first has his tea, then takes out his workbasket.

For an hour or so he busies himself with a piece of silk, then he turns out to the "local" for just one before closing time.

On the walls of Tom's home at Stockport-road, Cheadle Heath, Stockport, hang a number of examples of the fine work he turns out.

"I first learned embroidery when I was in hospital for nine months towards the end of the war," Tom told a reporter.

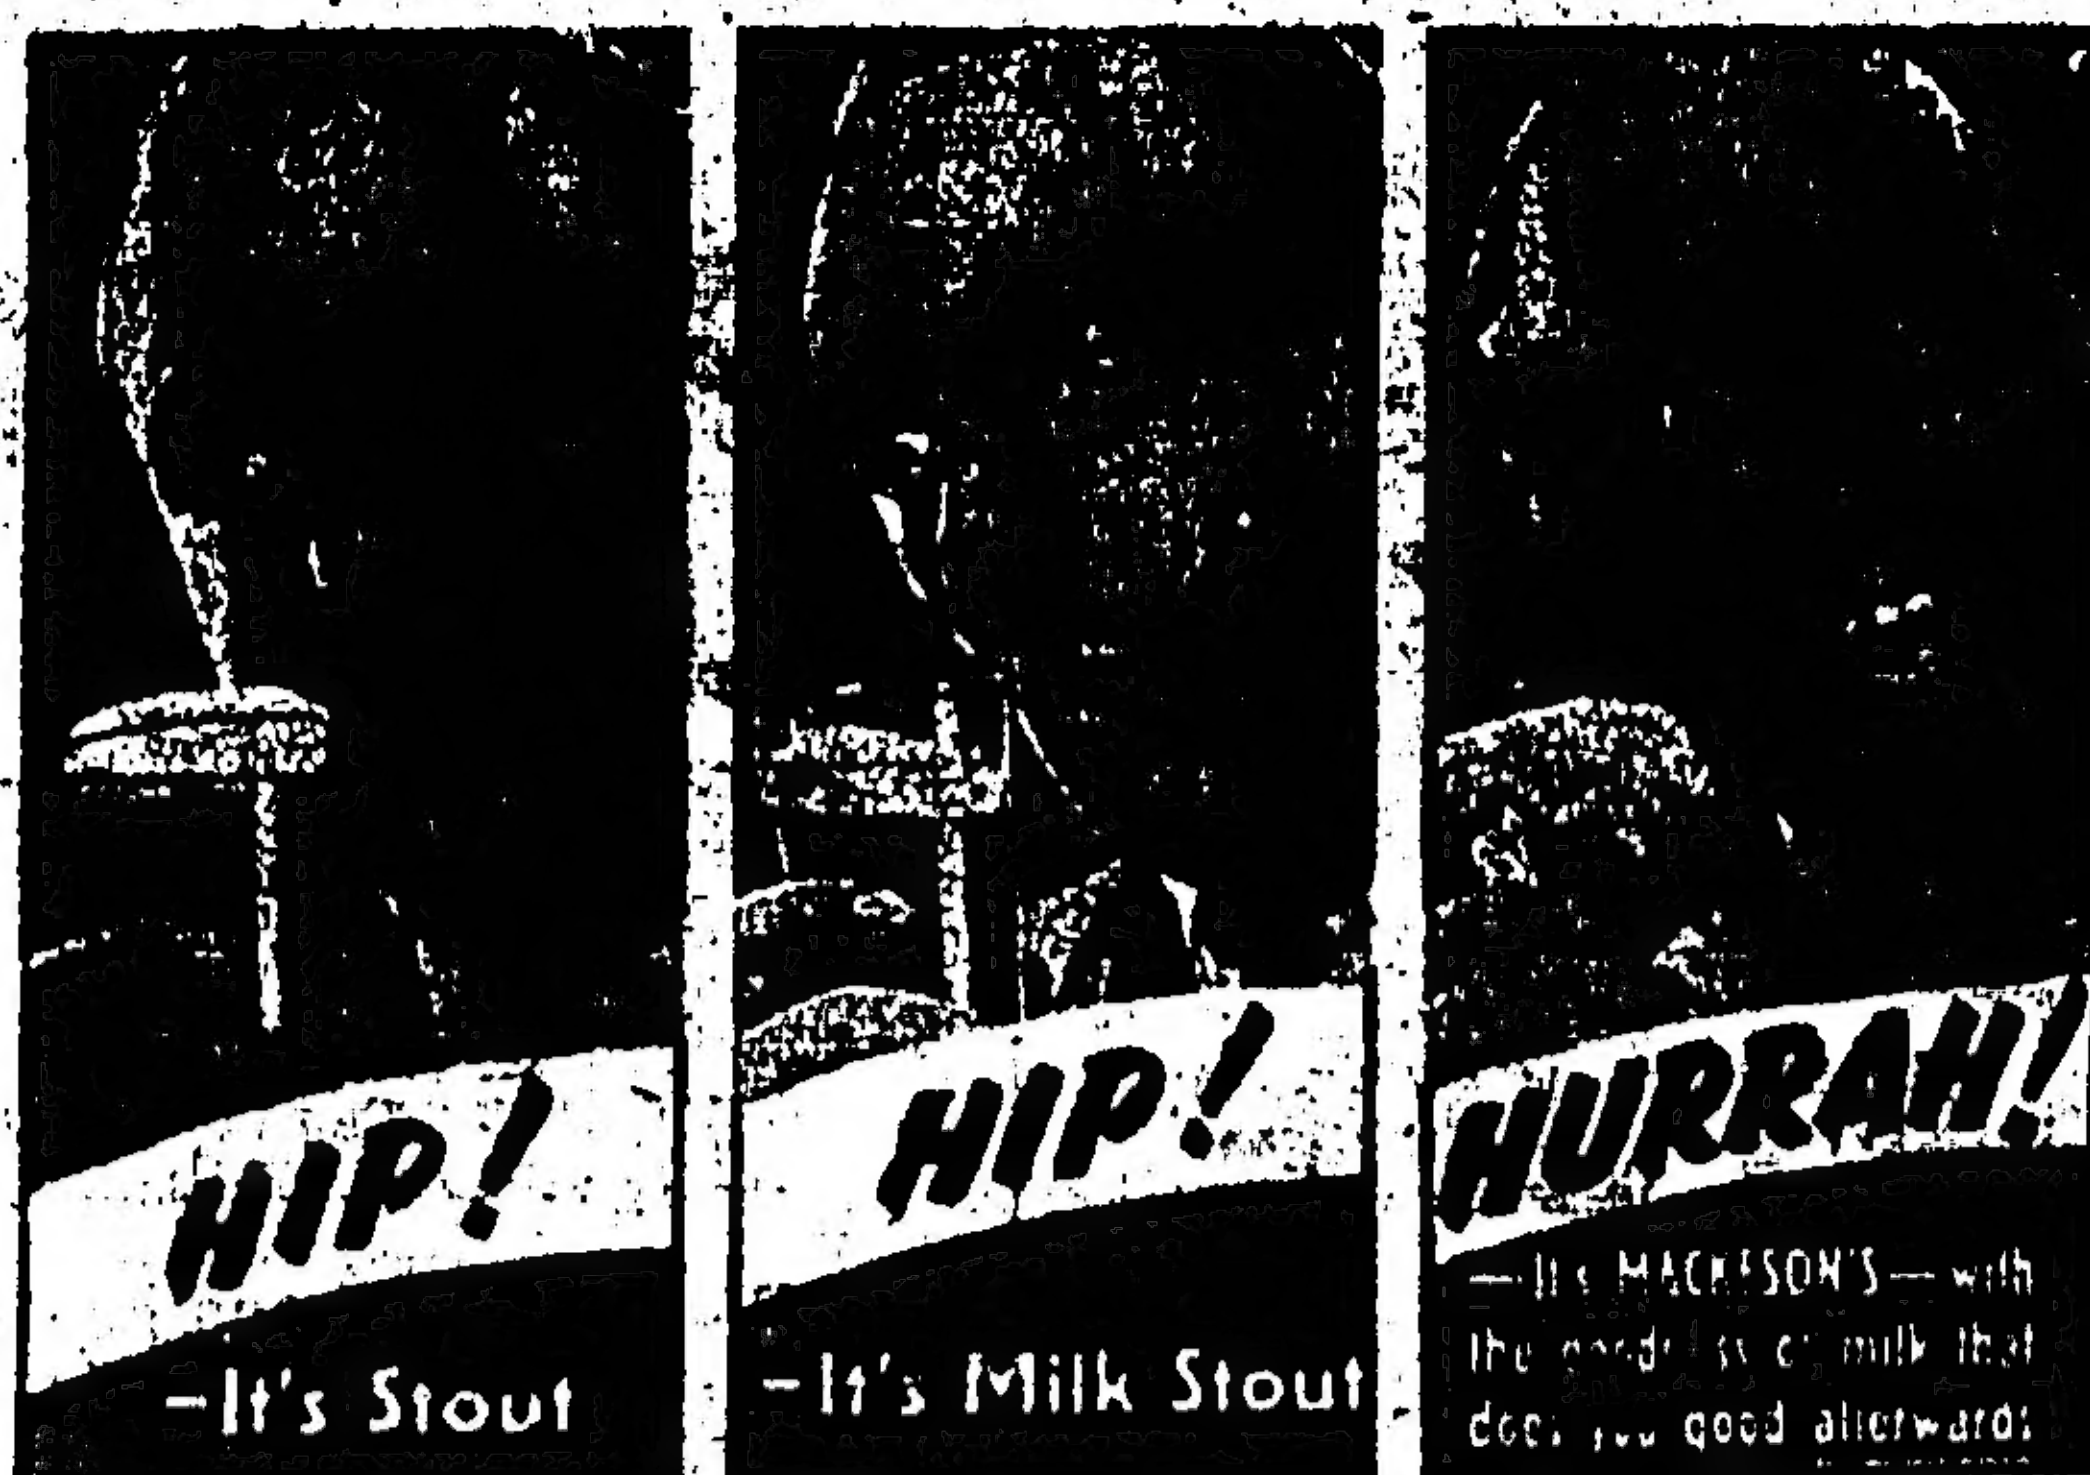

Tom has another unusual habit. He wears gold earrings.

"With doing so much embroidery I found my sight was being affected," he said, "so I thought of the old custom of having the ears pierced to help the sight."

"There is no doubt that it has helped me."

MIRROR OF OPINION

Japan's "ultimatum" to the Municipal Council of the International Settlement in Shanghai apparently is presented without the least embarrassment in Tokyo, although the thesis back of the ultimatum might be turned against the Japanese Government itself right at this moment. Japan is pressing the Council of the International Settlement to permit increased Japanese participation in the affairs of the International Settlement. The Settlement is believed by Japanese authorities to be harbouring elements disruptive to Japanese control elsewhere in China.

The Japanese describe the case as one between "order" and "disorder." But while Tokyo's right hand thus boldly embosses a demand which must cause concern in Western governments, Tokyo's left hand scribbles an apology to one of these governments for a Japanese air raid on Hong Kong. The bombing of a station there, the British are asked to believe, was a "mistake."

This coincident of a profession of regard for order and an act of disregard for it is all too typical of Japanese methods since the invasion of Manchuria. The coincident looks very much like a two-barrelled gun, both barrels of which go off at the same time and are intended to strike the same target simultaneously. The target is the temper of the democracies. The result of Japan's marksmanship, from the air and from its foreign office, will be studied in Berlin and Rome as well as in Tokyo. — "Christian Science Monitor."

The Spanish Government is still prepared to negotiate the peace which everybody craves on the basis of withdrawal of the fascist invaders, amnesty and a plebiscite. It still has vital material interests in victory. It still believes that while "to resist is to conquer," surrender may mean slaughter more foul than defeat; slaughter which, "The Times" implies, the non-intervening democracies should do nothing effective to discourage. And it still holds one-third of Spain.

But the argument, thunders "The Times," that recognition should be withheld from Franco while the Republic's flag flies over Madrid, does not hold. Nothing could be better calculated to encourage a desperate resistance by Miaja. . . . Nothing, in plain words, must be allowed to nourish Miaja's hope that the democracies might, even yet, awaken to some regard for their own strategic security, some care for international law now being sacrificed to gangster rule, some concern for simple human decency. How far lost to human decency "The Times" has become is indicated in its revival of the outworn lie that the Spanish Government is the pawn of Moscow.

It has been suggested that the decision of peace or war (in the September crisis) rested upon the whims and fancies of a single individual. Against that suggestion it will be readily realised that upon the people themselves largely rests the issue. It is nevertheless the right of humanity to accept or reject the idea of brute force as the controlling factor in human destiny, or to accept the power of right reasoning. Obviously the leaders of the nations need poise and wisdom in dealing with the international problems that confront them to-day. Nearly every power regards its own problem as the principal factor round which the actions of the nations should revolve. But in the end it can be said that the principal lesson that should be learned from the crisis of the immediate past, is that the leaders of the nations as well as the rank and file of the peoples of all the great powers need recourse to wisdom far transcending the mere cleverness of diplomatic reasoning. In a word the flame of faith and spiritual courage in the conduct of the affairs of the nations must be rekindled, since it cannot be denied that in ratio as men individually attune their thinking to the higher spiritual factors, the threat of war will lessen and the boon of peace will be hastened in its coming. — "Timaru Herald," New Zealand.

A totalitarian State does not waste time negotiating with an irresolute opponent unless it is totally successful by these methods.

The solution is for us to take the initiative, begin to put our own imperial house in order, and know beforehand where and on what principles of right we are prepared to stand. Until we have done these things all talks and concessions to the anti-Comintern Powers will be calamitous. We still have some time to do them. For this we can be thankful, but if the respite is not employed to reform ourselves, consolidate our forces and unite our policies a second Munich will be a repetition of the first and a prelude to the third.

For we can only preserve our freedom if we understand the forces that are arrayed against us. — "New Statesman and Nation."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

Subject:—"Reality"

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches, to-morrow 26th March will be "Reality".

The Golden Text will be:—"Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things (Philippians 4: 8)."

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible:—"Praise ye the Lord. I will praise the Lord with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation. The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein. He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the Lord is gracious and full of compassion. The works of his hands are verity and judgement; all his commandments are sure. They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments his praise endureth for ever". (Psalms 111: 1, 2, 4, 7, 8, 10).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—"To grasp the reality, and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is. The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas. Everything in God's universe expresses Him. God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spirit-ual". (Pages, 275 & 331).

R.A.F. PLANE'S ANTI-SPIN PARACHUTE

Fatal Test Flight

A parachute designed to assist pilots to regain control of aeroplanes in a spin was mentioned at an inquest at Martlesham, near Ipswich, R.A.F. experimental station.

Verdicts of accidental death were recorded on Sqdn. Ldr. Robert Travers Cazalet, 27, of Ashbocking House, near Ipswich, and his passenger Richard Peter Alston, 32, of West Harrow, Windlesham, Surrey, a scientific officer attached to the R.A.F. establishment, Farnborough, Hants.

Both were killed instantly when a Hart Harvard trainer machine, made in America, crashed and burst into flames at Eyke, near Ipswich.

Lt.-Cmdr. S. W. D. Colls said that before Sqdn. Ldr. Cazalet took off he was shown the controls of the anti-spin parachute. Cazalet remarked, "I shall not need that as I am not going to spin the machine."

Describing the crash, Supt. C. F. Quarm, of the R.A.C., Ipswich, who was a sergeant in the old Royal Flying Corps, said that when the plane was 3,000ft. up it got into a flat spin. "It did six spins, then straightened out, but it got into another spin. This time the pilot could not regain control," he added.

Kowloon Entertain South China "A" In Vital League Fixture

MANY CHANGES MADE BY BOTH TEAMS

(By "UBIQUE")

THE Kowloon Football Club ground will probably be packed to capacity this afternoon when Kowloon entertain South China "A", joint contenders with Royal Navy for First Division honours, and in view of the magnificent display Kowloon has always put up at home, the Chinese will be forced to go all out to come away with at least a point.

Kowloon, will be without the services of Hartley, who is nursing a broken finger sustained during the International charity game last Sunday, and his place will be taken by Jeffreys.

Bell will come into the team at right-half in place of Maxwell, who will be seen among the forwards.

Kowloon have re-arranged their forward line. The White brothers have been dropped and Rietsen will lead the attack, supported by Maxwell on his right, and P. Jorge, who has been playing all this season at inside right, on his left. W. Knox and Eastman will be seen on the right and left wings respectively.

LAU HING-CHOI BACK

South China "A," still smarting from their unexpected defeat last Saturday at the hands of Police, are fielding their full team. Lau Hing-choi will be seen at right-half while Kwok Ying-kee will fill the inside-right berth.

Eastern, who have an outside chance of challenging for the runners-up position, meet Middlesex and a good game should result. Middlesex are always at their best up against a Chinese side and should collect at least a point.

JUNIOR RACE

This week marks the completion of the fixtures of a number of teams in the Second Division, but the fight for the Championship is still open and the position among the three leading teams is as interesting as in the first Division.

The 5th A. A. Regiment will meet Eastern and should collect both points to tie with the Middlesex for first place, with 37 points each.

South China still have two games to play and a win in both will give them a point's lead over the two Army sides. They meet Kwong Wah to-day and are favoured to collect both games. Their only remaining game is against Royal Scots.

LAI WAH CUP FINAL

With Lee Wai-tong turning out for the Chinese against the Civilians in the final of the Lai Wah Cup to-morrow, on the Club ground, another big crowd is anticipated.

The Civilians have only made two chances in the team which beat the Army (holders) in the Semi-Final round. A. V. Gosano takes the place of Fowler, who has given up football, and Ferrier, of the Police, comes into the side vice Howlett, who is away.

The Chinese are fielding the same team which represented them in

Deciding Cricket Match

Recreio Need Victory Over Navy To Clinch Title At King's Park

(By "ADREM")

ALTHOUGH there are three Senior matches down for decision this afternoon in the Cricket League, very little interest will be centred on any but the game at King's Park between Recreio and Royal Navy.

Recreio, the "babes" of the Division, have been the sensation of the season. Entering the arena of the "giants" for the first time last season and meeting with only mediocre success, Recreio have left no doubt as to their ability this year.

At the moment, I would have little hesitation in naming them the finest combination in the Colony. They have certainly been the most successful, in friendlies as well as in the League.

The great question at the moment is . . . can they wind up the season fittingly by winning the League? To accomplish this they have only to win this afternoon against Navy.

SHOULD BE SIMPLE—BUT

On the face of it, this task, in view of the records of both teams, should be comparatively simple. However, it is generally agreed that the strength of the Portuguese team lies in their bowling and fielding. Gosano and Ozorio, as a combination, have yet to register a failure.

If Navy are at full available strength this afternoon they will have Capt. "Woodfull" Whitmarsh, told me that. On the other hand, the rain that has fallen steadily throughout the week should make it fairly easy—until it starts to cut up, anyway—and fastish bowlers should not receive very much assistance.

Gosano is fastish, so is Pereira. L. G. Gosano is left-hand medium. Ozorio is slow-medium. None of these can be termed spin bowlers in the true sense.

WILL GET GOING

For this reason, I am inclined to the belief that Navy batsmen will get going. They should get at least 120 and that score is going to be very difficult to beat.

While I wish the sporting Recreio side the very best of luck this afternoon, therefore, I do not think they will win outright, always provided, as I said earlier, that Navy are at full strength.

It should be an excellent game—all Recreio's games are worth watching, if for nothing else, for their brilliant fielding—and I anticipate a record crowd at King's Park.

Lieut. Manners, Lieut.-Comdr. Kennedy and Lieut. Walters, besides other potential, batting right down to the end.

The four named are probably as powerful as any four batsmen in any team here. Will they be able to collar the bowling this afternoon?

DIFFICULT WICKET

I am aware that the Recreio wicket is a difficult one. Not one but at least half-a-dozen batsmen have

Oxford Set Up New Record

(By AIR MAIL)

Simultaneously with the arrival of Cambridge on the Tideway to begin boat race practice, Oxford set up a new record. The Dark Blues rowed from Chiswick Steps to Barnes Bridge in 3 mins 49 secs, and had no sooner finished the row than Cambridge came into sight and passed them, making their first outing for Chiswick.

It was a splendid performance on Oxford's part. The previous best recorded time was 4 mins. by Oxford in 1909, when doing a full course trial.

UP TO 36

Oxford made the most of the calm conditions, starting at 32, never dropping below 29, and putting the stroke up to 36 at the finish.

R. M. A. Bourne, the injured stroke, went out in a tub pair earlier in the day to test his damaged left hand. It is understood that he will be well enough to take his seat in the Oxford boat to-morrow.

PLENTY OF ACTION

Plenty of action seemed to be the keynote of Cambridge, who covered about six miles. C. B. Sanford, the stroke, appears to have speed and rhythm, and 35 strokes in a minute's row against a head wind was a commendable effort.

In the rough water—caused by passing tugs—encountered at several stages of their practice, the Light Blues showed clever watermanship.

All-England Badminton Championship

(By AIR MAIL)

Both the singles titles went overseas for the first time at the All-England Badminton Championships at the Royal Horticultural Hall, Westminster, yesterday, when T. Madsen (Denmark) beat R. C. F. Nichols, the holder, in the men's event by 10-15, 18-13, 15-7, and Mrs. W. R. Walton, of Canada, beat the Bath girl, Miss D. Doveton, by 11-4, 11-5 in the women's final.

Nichols was suffering from a strain, and it was, therefore, necessary for him to win in two games. This he nearly did, as from 0-8 in the second game he got to 13-12, but Madsen then won all the points in the set of 5. The Dane then held the whiphand to the finish, playing perfect Badminton. Mrs. Walton outclassed Miss Doveton, and hardly made a mistake.

Men's Singles Championship.—Final: T. Madsen (Denmark) beat R. C. F.

Nichols (holder) 10-15, 18-13, 15-7. Women's Singles Championship.—Final: Mrs. W. R. Walton (Canada) beat Miss D. Doveton 11-4, 11-5.

Men's Doubles Championship.—Final: T. H. Boyle and J. L. Rankin (Ireland) beat L. Nichols and R. C. F. Nichols (holders), 15-4, 15-3.

Women's Doubles Championship.—Final: Mrs. R. Dalsgard and Miss T. Olsen (Denmark) beat Mrs. M. Barrett and Miss D. Doveton, 15-11, 2-15, 17-15.

Veterans' Doubles Championship.—Final: G. E. F. King and C. T. A. Wilkinson (1) beat P. A. Wooster and J. A. Hamlyn (3), 15-10, 15-3.

Mixed Doubles Championship.—Final: R. C. F. Nichols and Miss B. Staples beat J. L. Rankin and Mrs. M. MacNaughton (Ireland), 15-10, 6-15, 15-8.

Workman's Splendid Victory

Wins Grand National From Macmoffat In Big Field Of 37 Starters

DRIM FAILS AT FIRST FENCE AND JOCKEY'S WAGER IS LOST

London, To-day.

Sir Alexander Maguire's Workman, at 100 to 8, yesterday cleverly won the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, Liverpool, by three lengths from Captain Scott Briggs' MacMoffat, which started at 25 to 1, while Miss Dorothy Paget's Kilstar, the 8 to 1 favourite, was third, 15 lengths behind.

Eleven of the 37 starters finished what was an all Irish triumph. Workman's is the first Irish victory since Troy Town's win in 1920, fully justifying the confidence of its owner, who openly declared that Workman was a far better horse yesterday than when he unluckily finished only third last year.

Workman which was ridden by an Irish jockey in Hyde and which was trained in Ireland, was always lying handy and was one of the leaders at the end of the first circuit with Kilstar and Underbid with 26 still standing.

SLIGHT BLUNDER

MacMoffat which was trained privately in Scotland, came up splendidly near the finish and but for a slight blunder at the last fence might have made an even closer race of it.

Kilstar, who was always prominent just failed to stay the gruelling 4½ mile course.

Of the well-backed horses, Temewillow and Brendan's Cottage came down at the first fence together with Drim, whose amateur jockey and owner have thus failed to win the wager of £500 to £10 of getting over the first fence.

A JOKE

Royal Danielli fell early, but Blueshirt, who started as a 10 to 1 second favourite (due to an amazing tip washed ashore in a bottle off the coast of Ireland which read "plunge fearlessly on Squadron Castle and Blue Shirt") failed to finish though it completed the first circuit.

The joke is, that the tip was probably for last year's spring double when both horses were more fancied.

The mare Cooleen ran a great race and once again finished fourth. Symaethis, a stable companion of Blueshirt, was fifth while Dominick's Cross, who was up with the leaders four fences from home, was sixth. West Point, another Irish competitor was seventh, Pencraik was eighth while Royal Mali, carrying top weight, made a great bid to win its second Grand National and was always dangerous until five fences from home, came ninth.

AMUSING BATTLE

Bachelor Prince beat Underbid by a short head in an amusing battle for last place.

Although the weather was perfect and visibility has never been better with glorious spring sunshine, the attendance was the smallest in many years, which was possibly due to the unrest in Europe.

Workman's time was 9 mins. 42.2-10 secs. The winning owner who has only been racing for the past two years, said that 10,000 of his home town Navan, in County Neath, had backed his horse.

GOING WAS GOOD

It was estimated that there were a quarter of a million people present in bright and sunny weather when the race commenced. The going was fairly good at the start and about a dozen horses pushed out on running up the first fence where Birth Gift led Rockpuilla, Under Bid, Bachelor Prince, Perfect Part and Epiphanes. Four horses fell at the first fence including War Vessel, which was owned by last year's winner of the event, Mrs. Randolph Scott, wife of the movie star.

Birth Gift and Epiphanes headed the field at Bechers Brook followed by Rockpuilla and Kilstar. Sporting Piper jumped into the lead at the Canal turn followed by Birth Gift, Dominick's Cross with Kilstar just behind, going easily. Sporting Piper and Under Bid were disputing the lead onto the course with Kilstar in close attendance.

Twenty four horses completed the first circuit, Red Hillman leading the field at the start of the second round followed by Under Bid, Kilstar and Workman.

SEVERAL DOWN

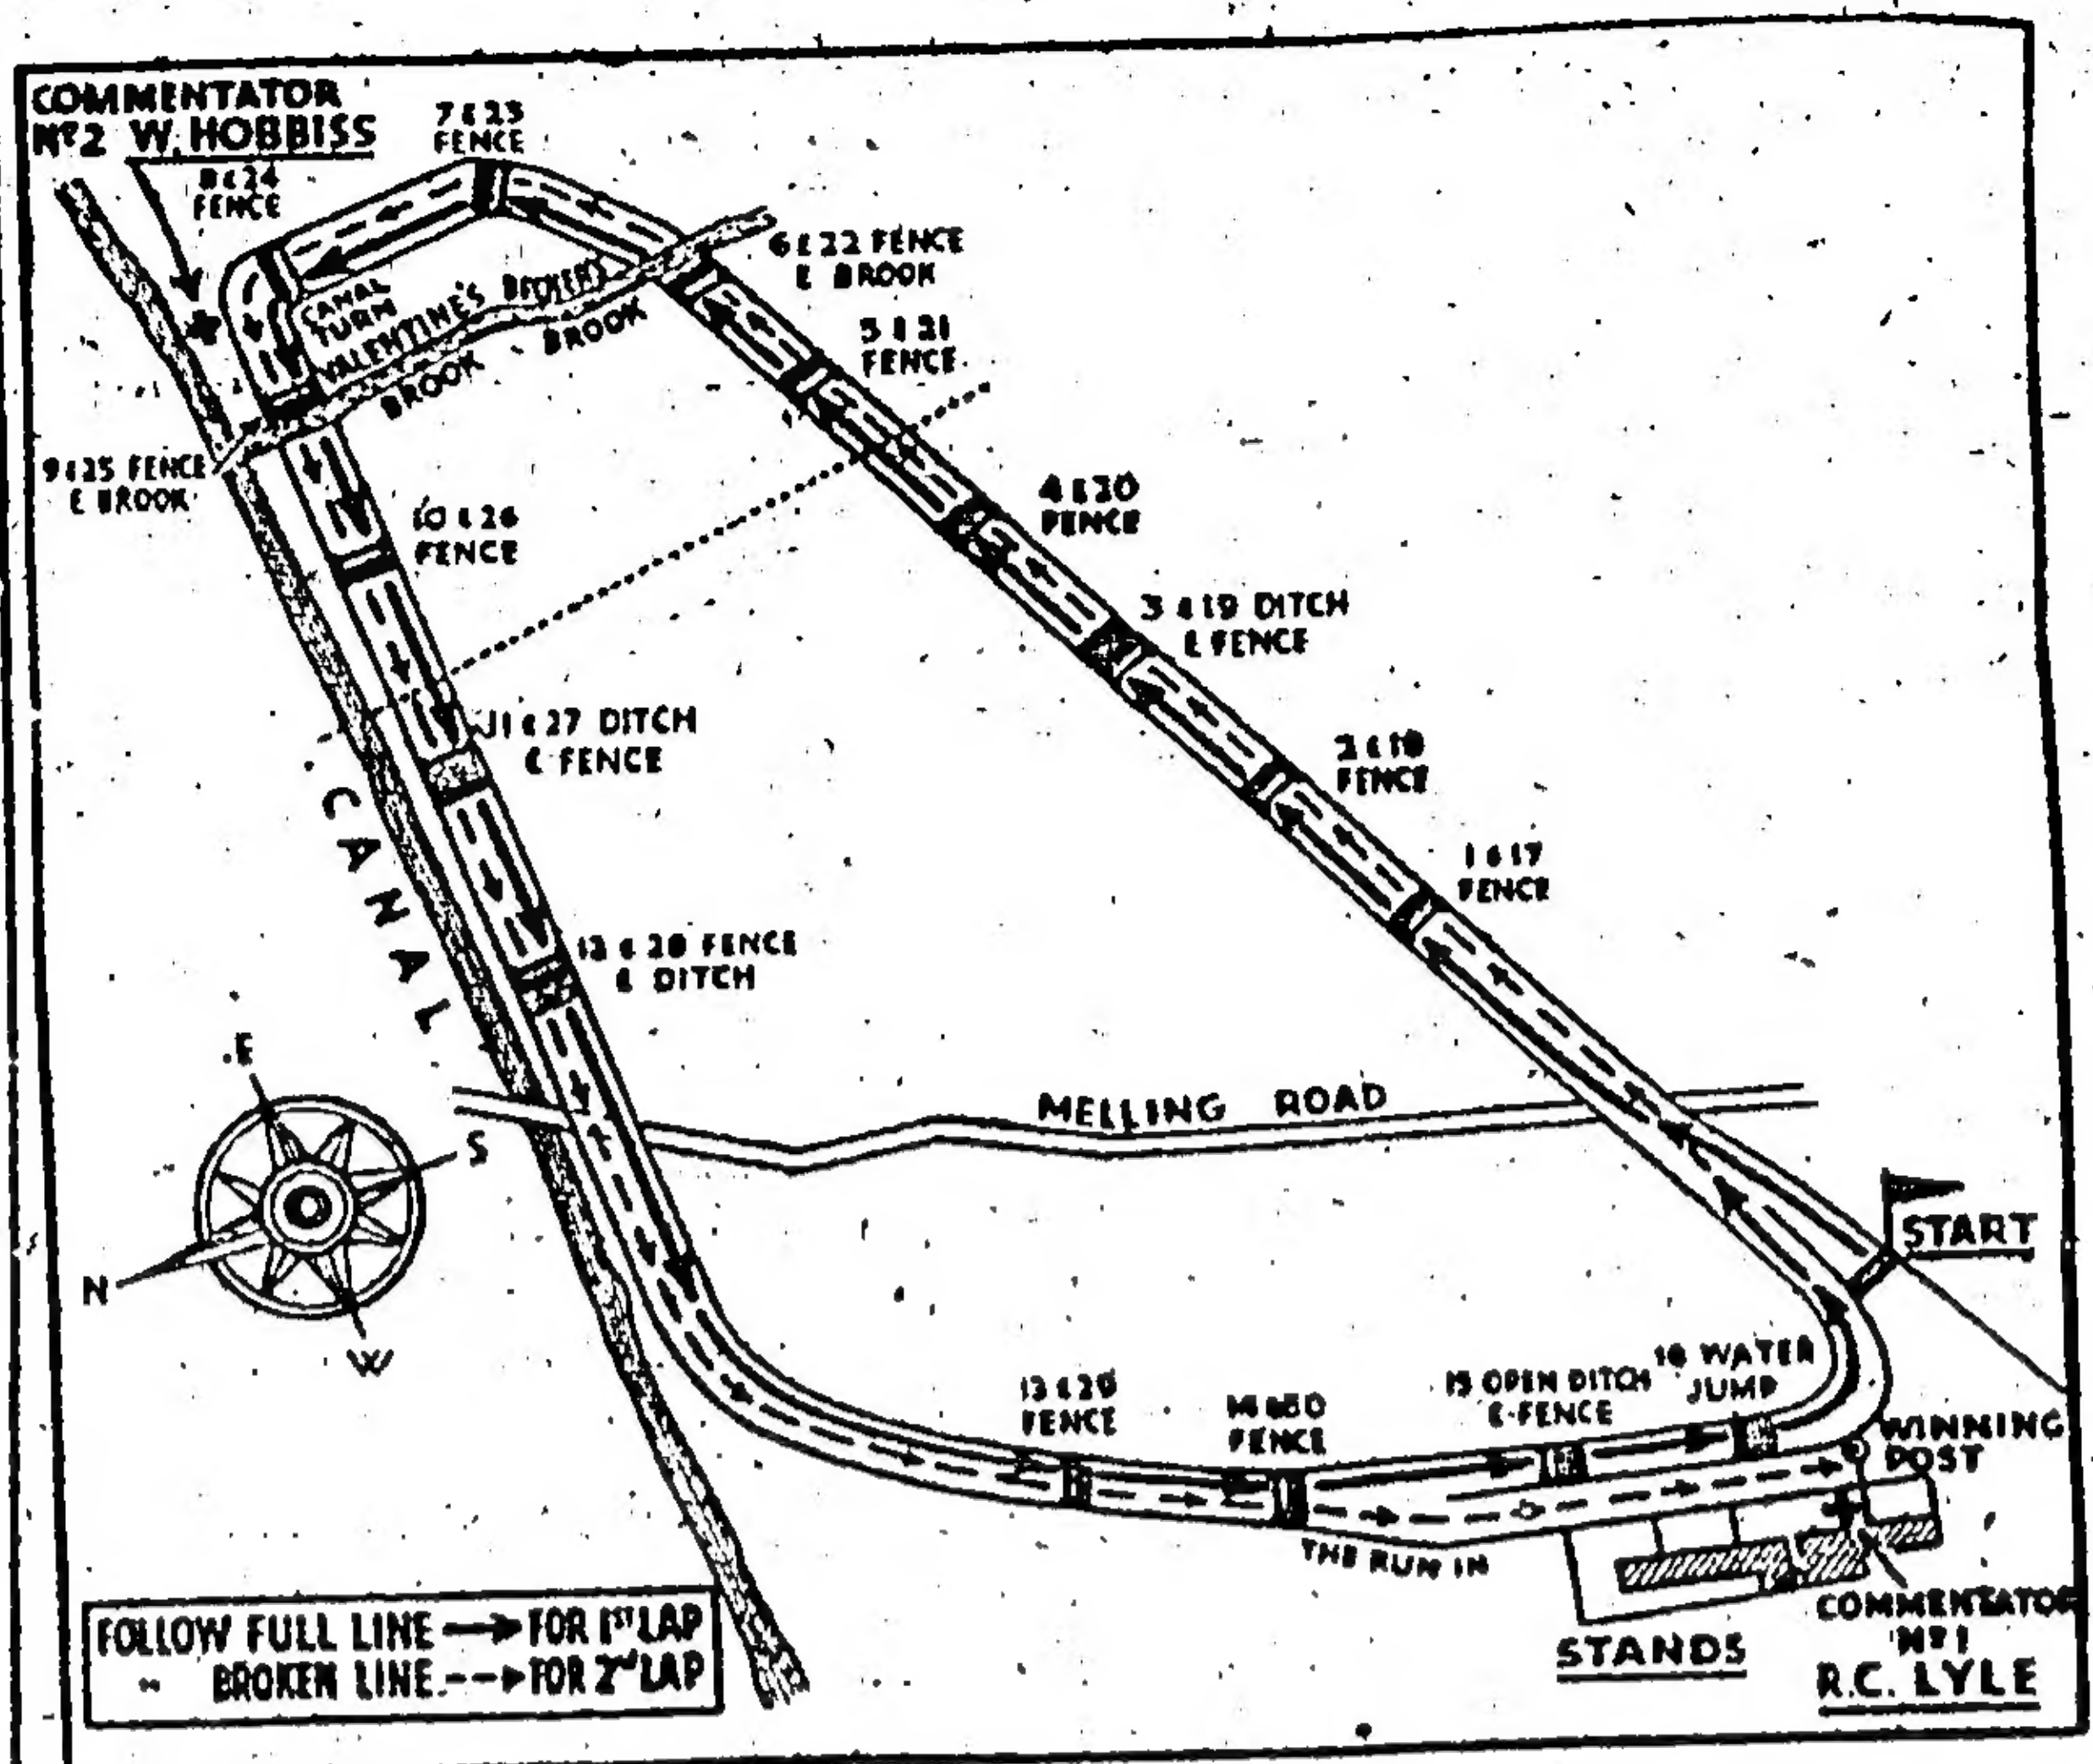

A loose horse brought down several of the runners at the fence before Bechers Brook, including Blueshirt. Kilstar remained prominent until the Canal turn where it dropped back to eighth.

Reaching the race course, Workman took command from MacMoffat with Dominick's Cross and Kilstar close behind. MacMoffat led slightly two fences from home but weakened at the last fence where Workman gained a slight advantage and ran strongly to victory.

Other horses to finish were in the following order: Cooleen, Symaethis, Dominick's Cross, West Point, Mesmerist, Royal Mali, Bachelor Prince and Under Bid. — Reuter.

"I wonder if you would be kind enough to decide what my correct lead should have been on the bidding shown above," writes A. Freeman of New York City. "Against the seven-spade contract I opened a diamond and, needless to say, South then had no difficulty in making his contract. My partner claims that the club opening was clearly marked. What is your opinion?"
In the first place, the double of a Slam contract by the player not on lead is for purposes of directing a lead. Obviously the diamond opening was definitely wrong and would be a trump opening, and the problem lies between clubs and hearts. From the bidding it was almost impossible for East to be void of hearts, and if he had the Ace of hearts, it would undoubtedly keep, whereas if he held the club Ace, it might be possible for Declarer to discard all his clubs on dummy's heart suit.

Finally, it was quite likely that North, with a singleton club, would be gambling that his partner's club bid showed the Ace. Hence we believe a club was the correct opening.

In yesterday's question, you were Declarer and held A-Q-10-x-x in spades. Dummy held 9-8-7-6. You had unlimited entries in both hands and could afford to lose only one spades trick. What was your correct play?

ANSWER: The correct play is to lay down the Ace of spades, then go over to dummy and lead a low spade. This will lose not more than one trick unless the King-Jack are guarded in back of you, in which case there is no chance anyway.

Score 100% for correct play, 70% for two finesse (also loses to King-Jack alone in back), 50% for one finesse followed by laying down the Ace (also loses to the wrong singleton honour in back of you).
